INTO PLAYING SHAPE

Shows Improvement, in Practice Against M. A. C., Over Rock Hill Game.

VIRGINIA MEDS DO WELL AGAINST M. U.

Eleven Which Is to Face Georgetown Saturday May Be Very Strong.

The work of the Catholic University eleven yesterday in its practice against the Maryland Agricultural College squad showed a lot of improvement over that which was done last Saturday against Rock Hill. The Brooklanders got into the play with a great deal more spirit; they gained quite a little ground against the Farmers and held well on the defensive much of the time.

The Farmers came into Brookland at do'clock and after a short signal practice the two elevens lined up for a scrimmage which lasted an hour. No count was kept of the downs, but Catholic University had the ball the greater part of the time. Its longest gain was a run made by Lynch, who got away with a forward pass and crossed the goal line. C. U. has an eleven that is apt to be heard from before the end of the year It did not do as well as it should have against Rock Hill. The line from tacklto tackle will average 170 or 175 pounds while the ends are also fairly heavy The backfield is not heavy, but it i. fairly fast. There are several good men out for the team, men who could make any secondary team in this section. Dottell, the former Mount St. Mary s player, who is holding down a position at left tackle, is above the average. He i strong, heavy and aggressive. He would here. Letters, another Mount St. Mary's man, is also good enough to distinguish himself considerably before the year is ball team last spring, is out for end, and he will make good. He came out only day before yesterday, but he got into the scrimmage against the M. A. C. ag team than was shown when it lost to Rock Hid, and it should get away with some well played games before the end of the year.

The Virginia Medical College, which will play Georgetown here Saturday, lost to the University of Mississippi yesterday at Richmond. The southern eleven did not do a great deal more ground-gaining than did the Richmond aggregation, but it managed to kick goal from its lone touchdown, the margin by which it won. The result of that contest may mean that the sleds are very strong, according that the sleds are very strong, according to whether or not the sississippi team is up to the standard of some of those which have represented that school. If the eleven is a standard Mississippi aggregation, then Georgetown will have a harder task on its hands than it has been calculating upon.

At a late hour this morning it was announced at Gallaudet that nothing had been done to settle definite the controversy now going on between the students and the faculty relative to the suspension of foot ball players because of alleged indulgence in "fagging." A meeting is to be held some time today, though, at which it is expected an amicable adjust-ment of the difficulty will be found.

Mulligan had one of the best squads last fall that have ever represented the Blue and Gray. It fairly swept things in this section, while the relay four accomplished victories over some of the big universities of the north.

ence behind him and not a man of the backfield who cannot carry the ball well tello stands out as the mainstay of the backfield, just as he has since he joined the squad in the fall of 1910, but there are other very capable men who may be called on for their best at any time. Murray, Foley and Kelly from last season's squad are all good.

There are not many better men to be found in this section. There are two or three new men who are doing creditable work, and who are generally recognized as capable of developing into exceptionally clever performers. The best showing by recruits so far has been made by Cassidy and Weems, though Landow is fast attracting the attention of the men in charge.

veloped to a greater point of efficiency and the eleven on the hilltop will give any of the other teams in this section the battle of its life to win.

There is no doubt that Georgetown is going to face about the best lot of foot ball players it has run up against in an eleven representing an institution in this holes under par, winning four and halvsection when it goes against A. & M. ing two of the next six, ending the next week. The Blue and dray is not match on the fifteenth. On the twelfth Boston "Pro" Golfers Lead.

Some of the singles were very good, however the best being that between George E. Truett, captain of the Washington Country Club team, and Sam Dalzell of Chevy Chase, the latter winning on the "home" green, 1 up. This match could not have been much closer, neither player ever being more than 1 up. Truett won the first hole in par 4; the second was halved, Dalzell squaring the match the squad in the fall of 1910, but there are other very capable men who may be called on for their best at any time. Te Georgetown line, while lighter than in recent years, is aggressive, and will make a better showing against some of the heavier forwards in the south Atlantic section than anybody is looking for. Let the Biue and Gray forwards be developed to a greater point of efficiency and the cleven the first and ninth making them seventh, eighth and ninth the laid his second almost dead to the hole on the feathth, winning it in par 4, but he had trouble on the eleventh, going in the trap and then out into the author, finally squaring the next two were halved, Truett losing the fourteenth after it looked as if he would be a sure winner, the Chevy Chsse would be a sure winner, the Chevy Chsse on the fourteenth,
